Seventy-Five CAVAL-YEARS

L-P alumnus, Jack Stuart, 94, signs the Seventy-fifth Anniversary guest book during Back-Then open house. A member of L-P's first graduating class, Stuart graduated in June, 1898.

Someone once wrote many years ago: "A wonderful past is behind you. A future full of possibilities lies ahead. Overcome the difficulties which present themselves. Think of the ones that were surmounted by those who have gone before. With the remembrance of the mighty and their mighty deeds, give your best, your noblest, that the sacrifices of the past may not be in vain."

'Tis you who must make L-P better than ever.

Think about it .

To be "young and alive and filled with enthusiastic commitment to provide the very best in education" — and be 75 years old, too!

L-P was founded amid the rumblings of a war with Spain in 1897. It survived enrollment peaks and valleys created by two World Wars, and the population explosion of the Fifties. Through it all, L-P graduated nearly 15,000 students — 475 this June.

When we begin to talk "old times", people begin thinking "Old Main" — the handsome terra cotta brick building (ABOVE) that served forty classes until 1937. To all these alumni, "Old Main" is L-P!

A monumental man F.W. MATTHIESSEN

"t.j." DR. THOMAS J. McCORMACK

To others, it is people who come immediately to mind — rather than buildings — when there's talk of the "good old days" at L-P.

People like Frederick William Matthiessen, who played a major role in the development of L-P. Our school today is really a monument to his generosity and concern for his community, whose like will never be seen again.

People like Dr. McCormack — educator, writer, counselor, innovator. He set lofty goals for L-P and put the wheels in motion to achieve them.

People like Mr. Kohin, who "opened up" L-P on September 12, 1898 and remained to inspire and charm students for 38 years.

And, of course, there were countless other people who placed their marks on students during the past 75 years.

Mr. Chips THOMAS C. KOHIN

75 Caval-yeARs

The following is a mini-history of La Salle-Peru Township High School over these-here-now 75 years, based on dates, events and personalities.

1896: La Salle-Peru Township High School is organized under the township system, April 11.

1897: First school board elected. Thomas N. Haskins named board secretary.

1897: Not without a great deal of hasseling between the cities of La Salle and Peru as to its location, the site for a three-story, ornamental red-brick building is selected: northeast corner, Fifth and Chartres streets, La Salle.

1898: Completed in time for classes in September, "Old Main" includes classrooms, laboratories, a cafeteria and gymnasium. Regarded as a benchmark in architectural excellence.

1898: Eighty-two students enroll in the new L-P High school, September 12. Stratton D. Brooks is superintendent.

1900: Board hires first coach, Howard H. Horton, to direct its only sport — football.

1903: New school feels first growing pains when it introduces manual training and domestic science courses. New low, factory-type building to accomodate these classes is built across Chartres street from "Old Main".

1903: Charles A. Farnum, superintendent for four years, is succeeded by noted educator, Dr. Thomas J. McCormack.

1904: L-P orchestra is organized under direction of Mary Fletcher.

1905: L-P becomes first school in the nation with a potential for a four-year high school agricultural curriculum.

1913: The school receives a $75,000 contribution, four building lots and a two-story brick building from F.W. Matthiessen. Located north of "Old Main" and connected by a covered passageway, the Social Center includes a gym with an indoor running track, a swimming pool, music room and dance studios, and classrooms. Truly a community recreation center, it will be governed by L-P faculty members for nearly 30 years.

1913: With new gym facilities in the Social Center, the original gym in "Old Main" is converted into a school and community auditorium seating 700.

1913: This is a big-year at L-P. On ground donated by Mrs. Matthiessen, the Hygienic Institute, a quasi-high school facility and area "health department" is established and a building erected just east of "Old Main".

1913: Howard Fellows comes to L-P. He serves as coach and athletic director until the mid-Fifties.

1917: The L-P campus takes on the appearance of a military camp. Two companies of potential "recruits" drill on the streets. Girls knit sweaters and socks for World War I "Yanks".

1918: A biology lab, reception room, kitchenette, exercise and game room are added to the Social Center as another gift from F.W. Matthiessen.

75 Caval-yeARs

1919: "Old Main" is completely remodeled.

1922: An Oglesby branch of L-P High School is established for students there.

1923: A second story is added to the east wing of the Social Center building.

1923: An innovator, L-P establishes a Bureau of Educational Counsel, forerunner of high school guidance departments.

1924: The board of La Salle-Peru Township High School creates one of the first two-year colleges in the nation, supported solely by township funds — La Salle-Peru-Oglesby Junior College. That same year Katherine Keegan is named school board secretary.

1925: L-P graduates exceed the one-hundred mark (111) for the first time in school history.

1927: With donations totalling $400,000 from Mrs. Eda Matthiessen and Mrs. George P. Blow, descendents of F.W. Matthiessen, a handsome Gothic brick building is erected along the west side of Chartres street between Fifth and Sixth streets, providing new classrooms, laboratories and office facilities.

1927: Matthiessen Memorial auditorium is a magnificent community addition, which "surpasses in design and acoustic excellence almost any building of its kind in the state". It seats 1.300.

1930: L-P enrollment exceeds one thousand students for the first time.

1933: Fred D. Stevenson succeds Dr. Thomas J. McCormack, who had served as L-P superintendent for 29 years.

1936: Enrollment mounts to 1,400 students. With the aid of a public works grant and a bond issue, a three-story wing is added to "New Main".

1936: A ravine is converted into a handsome football stadium with the help of WPA funds. The L-P Stadium seats 4,200 spectators for high school and community outdoor events.

1937: Dr. Frank Jensen is appointed superintendent.

1937: "Students no longer cross Chartres street at the end of each period to attend classes in both the new and the old building." The glory that had been "Old Main" passes away, and workmen begin razing the memorable structure.

1937: L-P joins the Big Seven conference. Names like "Cavaliers", "Incas" and "Aztecs" are heard for the first time. Walt Tyler takes his L-P cagers to the state tournament.

1938: To meet new state physical education requirements, taxpayers approve a bond issue for rebuilding the Social Center. Gym facilities are enlarged to accommodate 1,800 spectators.

1939: Football Coach Albert "Butch" Nowack, who ultimately wins five conference titles in nine years, puts together an unbeaten, untied season this year.

1940: The Big Seven athletic conference becomes the Big Eight.

1942: L-P enrollment nears 1,500-mark.

1946: June graduates number 311, including veterans of WWII/who take special examinations to qualify for graduation.

75 Caval-yeARs

1947: At the death of Dr. Frank Jensen, Francis H. Dolan is named superintendent. Dr. Dolan serves for 21 years in that position. Dorothea Janz, only the third school board secretary in L-P's history, is appointed.

1948: Cavalier cagers are in "Sweet Sixteen" under coach Jack Fabri.

1951: Walt Tyler's baseball team is in state meet, a repeat of its 1947 appearance.

1956: The Fabulous Fifties are upon us. There's a "lull" in L-P enrollment figures ahead of the "storm" of "war-babies" to come during the early 60's.

1963: L-P joins NCIC.

1964: A modern gymnasium seating 2,700, a new and enlarged cafeteria and kitchen facilities, an extension of the library wing, the addition of classrooms, laboratories and study halls, music rooms, athletic training and equipment rooms are readied in time for this school-year.

1967: L-P becomes the host school for nearly a score of area high schools whose students enroll in vocational courses — the La Salle-Peru Area Vocational Center.

1968: Don Stanton takes L-P cagers to Champaign for state tourney.

1969: R. James Risk succeeds Dr. Dolan as superintendent.

1970: The Cavalier basketball team, under Jack Margenthaler, takes crack at state title again.

1971: Largest L-P freshman class ever — 605 students — enter high school in August. Dr. Robert D. Pomije becomes L-P's eighth superintendent.

1973: Total L-P enrollment approaches the 2, 200 mark.

The community came by the hundreds and enjoyed old-fashioned L-P hospitality

BACK-THEN Open House February 6, 1974

There was a friendly, carnival atmosphere during our 75th anniversary open house when an estimated 4,000 alumni and friends of L-P were entertained, informed and refreshed, hosted and given V.I.P. treatment by the students, faculty and staff. Free school bus rides were provided by the L-P school board to and from the three-hour event. And, it was a good evening — a warm and thoughtful evening — one for all of us to remember.

Alumni, former superintendents and faculty members came to the 75th anniversary open house to greet old friends, old classmates and students — to relive for a time the memories of "their" high school. Classes from 1898 through 1972 were represented among the thousand alumni signatures recorded in anniversary guest books. RIGHT: Three charter members of L-P's High Scholarship Legion, established in 1917, were honored at this year's HSL program with gold pins: Mrs. Edna Colver, Mrs. Laura Beaumont and Walter Eich. Dr. Robert D. Pomije made the presentations.

BACK-THEN Open House

Elements for a happy get-together: continuous student entertainment, forty-six departmental exhibits, four alumni hospitality rooms, refreshments, door prizes, souvenirs — and Red Carpet treatment for alumni and friends of L-P.

In the Red-n-Green "spirit-formula", the PEP CLUB works as a catalyst

L-P's 75th anniversary Open House revealed still another dimension-for-service in the Pep Club. On direction from Miss Dolores Decaroli, sponsor, it suddenly turned its efforts to publicizing the community Open House. Sign-Painters produced huge window banners for downtown display. Then, they went to work on interior decorations which lined "alumni alley", greeting classes from 1899 through 1973. Other members of the Pep corps pooled resources, turning out aids to the 75th anniversary project—while hardly missing-a-beat in regular spirit-keeping chores.

Death, Be Not Proud

Death, be not proud though some have called thee Mighty and dreadful, for thou art not so. For those, whom thou think'st thou dost overthrow. Die not, poor Death, nor yet canst thou kill me From rest and sleep, which but thy pictures be, Much pleasure, then from thee much more must flow, And soonest our best men with thee do go. Rest of their bones and soul's delivery. Thou art slave to Fate, Chance, kings and desperate men, And dost with poison, war, and sickness dwell, And poppy or charms can make us sleep as well, And better than thy stroke; why swell'st thou then? One short sleep past, we wake eternally, And death shall be no more; Death, thou shalt die. JOHN DONNE

A look at the past . . . a plan for the future

DR. ROBERT D. POMIJE Superintendent

MISS MARY ELLEN EVERS Assistant Superintendent

Guidance, student services, attendance and business offices house school support-services which work directly with students and parents — keeping accurate day-to-day records of each student from entrance exams through graduation. These men and women have their hands on the pulse of L-P.

Data Processing

Class schedules, report cards, class lists, student profiles click off the electronic processors like crazy. Anne Wisniewski, John Pilarek and Harold Patterson harness the wizards, feed them the correct information and get back the tabulated summaries. This department knows all — tells all about sutdents.

L-P Area Vocational Center

L-P students — and students from nearly a score of area high schools — live and learn the roles of business and industry in the vocational courses offered "across the street". BELOW: Margaret Zielinski, bookkeeper, and Rita Martinkus, secretary. RIGHT: Paul Wasser, director, and John Orcutt, counselor co-ordinator, AVC.

Name it ... you can "take it" in Industrial Education

Inside the world of electronics, printing, agriculture, power and auto mechanics, shop crafts and construction: L-P students get a solid background for careers in industry after high school from the Industrial Education department.

More variety than ever: ENGLISH electives for upperclassmen

By the baker's dozen: elective course offerings were revised and expanded this year in the English department, and juniors and seniors have taken advantage of the greater choice. There are electives ranging from drama to a study of the works of British writers, from poetry to the mechanics of sound expository writing, from a semester of reading-for-pleasure to a look at filmmaking. Course offerings are examined each year in an effort to match the ever-changing interests of L-P students.

MATH hath clath!

Forty-six "clathes" in all — covering 13 courses designed to meet the needs of every student. In fact, over half of L-P's student-body is presently enrolled in courses ranging from remedial basic arithmetic to advanced mathematics including a rather extensive introduction to the calculus. Approximately 100 students participate in the annual Mathematics Association of America testing given each spring.

You'll be speaking like a native in no time

There's much more than syntax and grammar in the Foreign Language department. There's fun and excitement. There's total exploration of the customs and culture, the humanities, the conversational and reading styles of Spanish, French, German and Latin. In the recitation rooms and in the language lab. It takes a heap 'o livin' to make a house a home

Courses in food preparation and good nutrition, in clothes and textiles, and in family living help prepare students for a "degree" in homemaking. Still others in health and food services introduce the student to vocations in the health field and in volume foods management. All are how-to and do-it courses.

FINE ARTS: really a communications-center

Some students find pleasure in translating the composer's carefully-arranged dots into a musical story. Still others get-their-kicks creating a message from scratch with color, line, texture and form. So when these Fine Arts instructors are heard to cry: "Sound your A . . . daaaaaah!" "Now try it in acrylics." "Sopranos, remember, hold that for a count of four." — they're trying hard to play their special roles as communications-directors for future audiences everywhere.

His, her and his-n-her Physical Education

Fun-n-games, good for body tone and spirit enrichment, are the order of the day - once a day, everyday - for L-P boys and girls. Cavaliers take five straight for a 7-3 mark in '73

The L-P Cavaliers put together its most successful football campaign in three years defeating Peoria Limestone, Ottawa, Kewanee, Dixon, Streator, Kankakee Eastridge and Mendota.

Its 7-3 win-loss record included a string of five straight, season-ending victories plus five shutout wins on the season.

Head coach Joe Marini, completing his second year at the helm of the Cavaliers, commented: "We're really pleased with the progress we've made in the total football program and we're looking forward to the 1974 play-offs."

LEFT: Bob Holsinger (88) outflanks a pair of Tomcats for a first down. The Cavaliers made 155 first downs to their opponents' 88 in 1973.

"Impressive statistics" typify 1973 Inca season

It was truly a great year for Tony Innis' Inca squad, which strung together seven wins, two losses and a tie.

And, along the way, the L-P sophomores shut-out their opponents in the seven winning contests, scored 100 points more and had twice as many first-downs as competition while muscling their way for 2,097 yards-gained on the ground and in the air.

Ed Merriman and Keith Harvey combined for the lion's share of the scoring — Merriman with eight touchdowns and three PAT's; Harvey with seven T.D.'s and two extra points.

Coach Innis viewed the season as a "solid team effort" in which "desire spelled the difference".

Aztecs post a spirited 4-3-1 season

"Even though we lost three games, we were in every one of them," commented head coach Joe Vasquez about the 1973 Aztec football season. He pointed out that the losses were by a total of only 16 points!

Ron Franklin scored an even 100 points on 13 T.D.'s and 22 points-after. On 107 carries, Andy Rios averaged a mighty 6.96 yards. And, the team developed a respectable four wins, three losses and a tie.

"I'm certain our freshmen will avenge those losses as sophomore and varsity performers later on," Vasquez said.

Here "Cross Country" is Spelled with a capital "G".

Running cross-country is a lonely, solitary effort. It takes real GUTS to force yourself up the final hill — the last 300 yards — to meet self-imposed GOALS. There's only individual, GRUELING output that results in total exhaustion — and the satisfaction that you've done your best! This year, under the super-vision of new coach, GERALD GARRETSON, both L-P cross country teams had a super-G-Gr-Gr-GREAT year!

Our pompon girls have come of age

L-P's Cavalettes performed for the very first time at the Homecoming football game, October 12, 1956, under the direction of Miss Mary Stevens, girls' P.E. instructor. Darryl Fetters was band director. The Cavalettes (top) were described as a "novelty precision group of 16 girls".

Today's Cavalettes are 20 members strong. They work hard at their craft, practicing during the summer months (top, adjoining page) for at least five football and nine basketball home games. The "Caval-dears" shown here brightened each game, on gridiron and court, under the direction of Miss Cherie Moore and choreographers, Joan Marinangeli and Debbie Skerston (adjoining page).

EAST MOLINE - The state's fourth-ranked high school basketball team, Freeport, rode the 35-point performance of all-state candidate Tom Norman to an 81-71 victory over L-P here Wednesday in the second game of the Class AA Sectional tournament that concluded the Cavaliers' season at 22-5.

Norman, a 6-1 senior guard, was everything everybody said he would be as he put on a dazzling display of shooting, both from the field and the free throw line. He made 11 of 19 shots and converted all 13 of his free throw attempts, but even that wasn't enough to garner him game scoring honors. That went to L-P's senior forward Denny Trompeter, who closed out his varisty career in the uniform of the Red and Green by pouring 36 points thru the hoop. Trompeter hit on 18 of 35 shots for all of his points and had 16 in one quarter alone, the second.

L-P's Randy Parker went up for a shot while Freeport's Ron London, No. 52, and All-Stater Tom Norman, No. 14, positioned for the rebound in the Cavaliers' 81-71 loss Wednesday night in sectional competition in East Moline. L-P ended the campaign 22-5.

You've come a long way, baby

In the beginning, L-P's 75th Anniversary Class came on like all the rest - bewildered by the national scene, shaken by sheer numbers of students and the swagger of upperclassmen. And, according to tradition, the boys were shorter than the girls. They jelled almost immediately into a united, independent group. Sustained by the belief that they were somehow "the best class ever" to hit Fifth and Chartres, they courageously blundered through situations which often proved this to be so. Set-backs and they had their share - seemed only to enrich and develop them, Now, nearly 750 L-P school-days later, these Seniors graduate — a mature and polished unit certain to have laid its own distinctive brand on those students who follow.

Seventy-five CAVAL-YEARS

By far, the most popular single activity at our BACK-THEN Open House this year was "yearbook-watching". Hundreds of alumni and friends of L-P swarmed over copies of old ELL ESS PE books on display in the library. These yearbooks seemed to become tangible links with their high school days.

We hope our ELL ESS PE will become your personal diary of events and activities, which crowded this school year, and a record of the people who made things happen around you.

Before L-P's one hundredth anniversary rolls around, we hope you'll refer to this edition a hundred times for information and pure pleasure.

We heartily thank the members of the year-book staff, pictured on pages 44-45, for their work — often tedious. We appreciate the assistance of everyone who has helped us reach page 239 with some degree of success.

And, it all would be meaningless without YOUR support of ELL ESS PE.
